To Whom It May Concern,

I am delighted to provide this letter of recommendation for Daniel David Elles. As a student in my Research Methods in Communication class at Wayne State University, Daniel consistently demonstrated exceptional performance and active participation. His decades of expertise in marketing, public relations, and data analytics greatly enriched our classroom discussions with practical insights.

Throughout the course, Daniel consistently showcased strong research skills, particularly in the area of sales and marketing strategies. He effectively applied diverse research methodologies, contributing valuable insights both in class and through assignments. Daniel's proficiency in research design, data collection, and analysis significantly elevated the quality of our academic discussion. He achieved a remarkable score of 99.62% in the course, reflecting his commitment to academic excellence.

Daniel's commitment to bridging theoretical knowledge with practical application, along with his collaborative nature and respectful demeanor, make him an ideal candidate for the position. With his decades of experience and demonstrated expertise in research methodologies, he brings a unique perspective and skill set that will undoubtedly contribute to the success of your team.

I have full confidence that Daniel will excel in any role requiring strategic thinking, effective communication, and leadership.

I will be happy to provide any additional information you may need.

Sincerely,

Najma Akhther, MA, MSS, BGC-PHP
